“The ACWDB brings government, academia, and industry together in partnering for career pipelines. ACWDB’s customized training program was able to jump start the Veterans to Technology pathway and set the foundation for a statewide STEM career movement that impacts the greater good for all California based technology companies.”
– LAWRENCE LIVERMORE NATIONAL LABS

“We appreciate the effort the ACWDB makes to bring Alameda County manufacturers in front of the public, from youth to adults, and educate them about the important role manufacturing plays in their community and the employment opportunities we provide. I love working with you guys because you make it so easy!”
